Our fees explained

TOTALLY RESULTS FOCUSED

At Belkins we understand in a bad debt situation, what you want is a cost-effective solution. That's why we charge no upfront joining fee.

Our rate remains the same whether it takes us a single day to recover your debt or an entire year, which means getting the job done quickly and efficiently is as much in our interest as it is in yours.

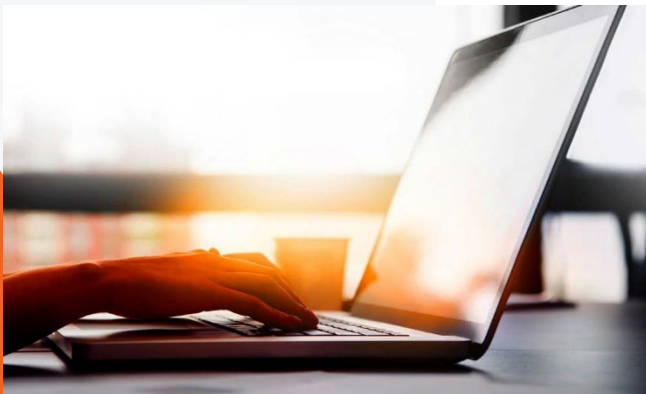

No collection, no commission

In most cases, our typical commission rate is 20%. But we only charge commission on any monies recovered after, which means we're fully focused on winning.

Ancillary & Legal Services

Our ancillary services are available to all our clients. If a case requires a specific service such as legal action or debtor tracing, the associated cost will be explained to you before any action is taken and we require your express instruction before undertaking any fee incurring work.

A full price list of ancillary services is available on request. In many instances, these additional costs can be legally recovered from your debtor, depending on the content of your terms and conditions.

Why Belkins?

COST EFFECTIVE

No upfront cost and we only bill you for commission if we successfully recover monies.

STRAIGHTFORWARD

Simple commission rate, typically 20%. So, you can easily budget for the costs of recovering a bad debt.

CONTROLLED

Our commission rate stays the same and you are in control of any speculative legal actions.

COMMITTED

Credit control is our business, so we can give every bad debt the time it deserves to achieve a successful outcome.

DECISIVE

For cases requiring additional persuasion, we know precisely what kind of recommendations to level against your debtors and can take care of everything.
